Aporosa Latia

Many of you will remember Aporosa who studied on campus at Carey last year. We have received the sad news that Aporosa died on Friday March 23. He is survived by his wife Vilisi and four boys. Aporosa only spent 1 month 29 days in his new posting as the Assistant to the Dean of the Holy Trinity Cathedral in Suva. Please remember to pray for Aporosa's family.

carey tent at mystery creek

Do remember to pray for all those from the Carey community involved in ministry and mission over Easter. If you are at Mystery Creek in Hamilton make sure you check out the Carey Tent and help Sam fly the Carey flag!

Alumni Magazine

Make sure you grab a copy of the latest Applied magazine - a great read!! This edition is all about celebrating "Carey Women". Hear about recent graduates, read an article from Sarah harris on Celebrating Women, and there is even an interview with Neroli Hollis. Oh, and each of the spouses of the last four principals and Carey get to have there say also. Grab a copy from reception.

Congratulations to Dr Brian Krum on the successful completion of his Doctor of Ministry (Missional Church Leadership) from Fuller Theological Seminary. The Carey Staff enjoyed a breakfast celebration at a local café with Brian and his family on Thursday morning. Yummy!

Tim Bulkeley writes:

The sermon on today was a reminder of the links between Passover and the events of "holy week". Time and again the writer of the gospels and other New Testament books use the traditional story and ritual of Passover to understand Jesus' crucifixion and resurrection.

Passover was the annual celebration and remembrance of the great and mighty deliverance God worked for Israel to free them from the power of Pharaoh. It is a joyful festival, and participants regularly get so involved in the story that some Gentile observers describe their experience of sharing Passover as "we all left with wet feet" (from "remembering" the miracle at the sea).

The day before the sermon Jonathan's blog had a post about how "communion is now not complete without either a slide showing a blood stained figure on a cross, or a pained face with a crown of thorns". Like him, I am saddened that too often we trivialize this powerful material "remembrance" of communion with two dimensional images. Speaking of the bread and wine of communion our pastors recite Jesus words: "This is my body" and "this is the new covenant sealed by my blood". But we fail to hear.

I pray that in our "Passover" celebrations month by month but especially at this season, as we share the material elements of bread and wine, we too would "get our feet wet" from experiencing the powerful grace of God and not merely have our emotions tweaked by some gory artwork!
